The above cut represents one of our very popular numbers in Ladies' Wash Waists. We simply use the cut of this one number to call attention to the many good numbers represented in our stock. As a whole, our stock of waists is entirely different from any other goods being sold in the city; in fact the style and general makeup of these garments is superior to anything in the market today. That is saying a good deal, nevertheless it is true. BUMPED BY BICYCLES

Two Accidents Early Last Evening.

ONE MACHINE BADLY MASHED

A Small Boy Broke His Wheel at Fifth and Market Streets, and Another Knocked Mail Carrier Bevington Off His Feet Near the Same Place—Bloomers in Wellsville—What May Happen.

Wheelmen and women are enjoying these pleasant evenings, but at the expense of some unfortunate pedestrians, who seem bent on getting in the way of reckless riders.

The first accident last evening occurred at the corner of Fifth and Market streets, and when the rider of the wheel got out of the tangle it was to find his machine mashed, and his body bruised. As he turned from one street into the other he collided with a horse attached to a light road cart. The horse plunged violently, but fortunately the rider was not struck, though it required all the agility he could command to get out of the way. The driver of the cart got out of the way as soon as possible. The wheelman's name is Bucher.

The excitement of the accident had not passed away when another occurred on the other corner. A boy was riding at a rapid rate across the street when he collided with Henry Bevington, the mail carrier. The shock was so great that the dignified servant of Uncle Sam went flying through the air as though he had been a feather. When he alighted he was covered with bruises, and the rider was gone. He was not badly hurt, and was able to walk home. The reckless manner in which some riders wheeled through the Diamond and along the streets almost caused a number of accidents, but the agility of pedestrians alone prevented.

Motormen who have been annoyed by wheelmen making the Washington street hill are warning them against continuing the practice. They say that when climbing hills it often happens that a strong current passes through the metal part of the car, and a wheelman holding a handlebar with one hand, the car with the other and having his feet on the metal pedals is in danger of being killed, or at least badly injured. A number of young men were warned yesterday, the motormen having no desire to see them electrocuted.

Wellsville is in the throes of agony because some of the sedate society ladies of that place have appeared on the streets in bloomers. They came out yesterday morning and created an immense sensation by riding along as though they were arrayed in the ordinary garments of the sex. Some people were scandalized, others looked on with a quiet smile, and not a few championed the cause of the courageous young ladies. A rider arrayed in bloomers was seen on Fifth street in this city last night, but the identity of the brave woman was not generally known. It is fully predicted that bloomers will be common in the city before the summer is over.

AE UT WHEELS.

Talk of Council Restricting Riders on Streets—A Communication.

With the arrival of from 50 to 75 new wheels since the season opened, and the consequent addition to the large number of bicycle riders here, the sport has grown to an extent that would be praiseworthy if it were not attended by various dangers.

Learners in the art of managing the festive bike are plenty, but as a rule they are harmless so far as the traveling public is concerned and the injury has been confined to the rider's limbs and skulls. There has been no end of complaint from pedestrians, and those who read the News Review have doubtless observed that many other accidents have occurred, and so far the damage has not been to wheel and rider alone, but to unfortunate bystanders. The complaints come unusually early considering that the season is scarcely opened, but they are so numerous and earnest that no doubt can be entertained as to the cause for the objections. In defense of local cyclists it can be said that East Liverpool contains some excellent riders, wheelmen that are fast pushing to the front and are destined to become experts on the road and track. The majority of riders, it is believed, are careful and will not indulge in racing or any other style of fast riding near crossings. But as in most cases, "there are others," and these are careless in the extreme. They are certain to cause trouble for those who do not deserve to be rebuked.

A movement is already on foot to have council restrict riders, and it is almost certain to accomplish its object if wheelmen in general do not take some action. As a remedy it is suggested that bicyclists organize, adopt rules that will prevent any interference with the rights of foot travelers, and make it a feature to aid in the prosecution of riders who rush about recklessly and care not who is in their way. Interviews with prominent wheelmen show that they believe the move would be a good one and they promise to give any such action their hearty support. East Liverpool could have the best club in Eastern Ohio and organization becomes more of a necessity each day, not alone for the pleasure it would bring, but for the protection of the rights of those who are willing to advance the sport.

Wheeling has received a great impetus in the city during the past few weeks, and crowds of riders can be seen every evening. The country roads are in splendid condition, and parties go out from the city every evening. A favorite ride is up the river, but others prefer the California Hollow road.

A Rider's Advice.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW.—It is with deep regret we notice the reckless riding of cycles on our public streets. Neither men, women nor children are safe from the nightly onslaught. It seems to us a common regard for the rights of others, as well as a just pride in this legitimate sport, would make men careful. Public opinion is worth a great deal. This we have in our favor at present, but public opinion may easily change and make trouble. If men are bound to ride fast, let them go where they will not interfere with the right of others, and thus save criticism and injury. If the many accidents already occurring is an index of the future, then let the bicycle men have the streets to themselves. Let the men who are interested in advancing this sport start a crusade against the irresponsible rider and thus preserve the good will of our people. A few arrests perhaps would have a salutary effect.

ONE OF THE RIDERS.

TALKED IT OVER.

A Few of the Health Authorities Met Last Night.

The board of health held no meeting last night because the majority of members failed to appear at city hall.

Messrs. Furinton and Kauffman, Doctor Ogden, Officer King and Clerk Grosshans were present when the time for the session rolled around, but nothing was done except a little informal talk. The report of the health officer for the month shows that 20 boys and 16 girls were born in the city, all of them being white except two. Fifteen females and four males died during the time covered by the report, three being from accident. Among this number was Ida May Sutton, whose death caused so much comment two weeks ago. Consumption carried off two, and the others were well distributed among diseases common to the valley. One horse and five dogs were put under the sod, but it was a poor month for cats. The bills passed upon by the finance committee give A. Coleman, $4.50; J. T. King, $50; T. L. Potts, $2.05; Colonel Hill, $10; Tribune, $9.30; Doctor Ogden, $25. The bill of Colonel Hill is for retainer and fee in the case with council. It is probable that another meeting will be held in two weeks, as it is necessary that the annual report be ready for council to consider.

COUNCILMAN HORWELL

Speaks Respecting His Vote In Favor of the Weekly Tribune.

Councilman Horwell, who cast his vote in favor of the publication of the clerk's report in the obscure sheet known as the Weekly Tribune, peddled about East Liverpool and forced upon the people, states that he would not have so voted, without fuller investigation and consideration of the subject, had he been aware of the fact, which had slipped his memory for the time, that the News Review had the contract for all legal printing to be done in the newspapers.

CLEANING THE RESERVOIR.

Superintendent Morley Will Work a Force Tomorrow.

Work on the lower reservoir will be completed today, and tomorrow Superintendent Morley will have a force cleaning the basin. It will be scraped and whitewashed until it is clean as labor can make it. There will be no inconvenience to water consumers, as the engines will pump direct into the mains. Work on the repairs at the high service reservoir will be commenced next Monday.

—John M. Stoddy, of Akron, was here on business yesterday.

GROUND INTO PIECES

Two Liverpool Young Men Killed at Ashland.

CARS MANGLED THE BODIES

OF James E. Lutton and Will Merchant Last Night—They Were Out on a "Tramping" Trip, but Used the Trains Once Too Often—Doubt About Merchant's Identity, but the Two Left East Liverpool Together.

Two well known young men of this city who left home and friends on Thursday last are now lying in Ashland, this state, mangled corpses, the work of cruel car wheels.

One is James E. Lutton and the other is supposed to be Will Merchant. Officer Supplee received the first knowledge of the sad accident when Coroner J. C. Sloan, of Ashland, telegraphed him that Lutton and a companion had met death underneath the cars there last night. The message said it was thought the unknown companion was a barber, but this was Lutton's occupation. Later the News Review received a telegram from Superintendent Southworth, of the Fairmount home, at Alliance, to the same effect. Officer Supplee investigated and found that Lutton and Will Merchant left here Thursday on a tramping trip. The Merchant brothers, Harry and Will, have not been living with their widowed mother, but have been residing with Louis Calhoun, Seventh street, their guardian being B. C. Simms. Lutton is a son of George Lutton, who formerly resided on Second street, but who now lives in the country. He was aged 23 years and Merchant was 21. Another telegram received by Officer Supplee at 2 o'clock gives a description of Lutton's companion and it tallies so closely that there can be little doubt that it is the East Liverpool man. Telegrams have been sent to Coroner Sloan and it is expected that the body of the supposed Merchant will be identified this afternoon. Merchant was a potter and last worked at Mountford's. No arrangements have been made for bringing the bodies home.

LATER—W. A. Calhoun received a telegram at 3:05 this afternoon stating that the other body is that of Will Merchant, beyond a doubt. The bodies will be here on the early train tomorrow.

The Old Church Will Go.

The old "White" church, in the rear of the Methodist Protestant church, which was mentioned in the News Review recently as being condemned by Mayor Gilbert and Fire Chief Adam, will be torn down. The trustees of the Methodist Protestant church will have charge of the work, as the building is on the church lot. Bills announcing the proposed sale of the structure have already been distributed. The old building, which has long been unsafe, has been occupied by a large number of colored people. It will be disposed of soon.

Replevined the Dynamo.

Manager Bostwick of the light plant yesterday entered suit in replevin in Squire Rose's court for a dynamo which had arrived at the freight depot from the General Electric company, Chicago. Agent Thomas had instructions not to give it up without a bill of lading and the shipper had neglected to send this. The claim was made that the firm telegraphed Mr. Thomas to release it but he refused. Constable Albright took charge of the dynamo and it was transferred to the plant. The case will be tried Monday morning.

Among the Ailing.

The little daughter of George Welch, of West End, is seriously ill with pneumonia.

The little daughter of Charles Daley, Third street, is ill with pneumonia.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bowles, 277 Third street, is seriously ill with blood disease, and its recovery is well nigh impossible.

Miss Emma Bell, of Toronto, is confined to her room at the residence of Mrs. Daley, on West Market street. She will be taken to Toronto as soon as possible.

Mrs. Julius Stern, of Minerva street, is ill with the grip.

The wife of Motorman Morgan is very ill at their home on Short street. Motorman Brandenburg has been off duty several days owing to an attack of rheumatism.

Carl Schnepf is very ill with typhoid fever, and it is feared that he cannot recover.

Pleasant Affairs.

Mrs. Josephine Fisher entertained a party of 16 friends at dinner yesterday.

day evening in her cosy home on Fifth street. The menu was elaborate, and the event one of the most fashionable of the season.

Colonel and Mrs. H. R. Hill filled their pleasant residence on Cook street with a merry party of guests last evening. Cards were the amusement in the early part of the evening, but they gave way to dancing before the happy guests went home.

Miss Jennie Crable entertained friends with duplicate whist at her cosy home, East Market street, last night. The evening was one of rare enjoyment.

As Others See It.

The Salem Herald has the following: "The East Liverpool Daily Crisis and the News Review were two warm papers yesterday. The city council of Liverpool on the previous evening awarded the contract of printing the city clerk's annual report to the Tribune, an obscure weekly paper, at a greater figure than was bid by either of the daily papers."

A Painful Cut.

When John J. Rose was aiding in removing a bar in the Young Men's Christian association rooms last evening, a guy rope slipped from the hand of one of his assistants, and the bar swinging free struck him in the face. A long gash was cut to the bone, and wonder was expressed that the blow had not fractured the skull. Doctor Hobbs dressed the wound, and made the young man as comfortable as possible.

Crockery Men.

John Howard Gresham, the southern man of the Sebring company, will return to this city next week.

C. M. Cole, a crockery buyer from Barnesville, was here yesterday making purchases. The gentleman is a member of Dr. W. H. Locke's congregation in Barnesville.

Both Are Out.

The first strawberry of the season arrived today, and close in its wake came the barefoot boy. Meanwhile the doctor looks on and smiles and the druggist cannot refrain from indulging in financial anticipations.

Three Statues.

Three life-size statues representing the Virgin Mary and two angels were received yesterday from Chicago and Cincinnati, and were placed in St. Aloysius' Catholic church. Dedication services will be held some time this month.

Died at Steubenville.

Mr. John Kenny died at his home in Steubenville after a short illness with apoplexy. Mr. Kenny was the uncle of Mrs. E. K. Chamberlain, of this city, who leaves this evening to attend the funeral, which takes place on Monday.

REFORM AT CITY HALL

Rumors That a New Step Will be Taken.

ALSO IN THE DEPARTMENT

At the Central Fire Station—Nobody Seems to Know Just What It Will be or Why It is Needed—Mayor Gilbert Takes a Stand on Sunday Selling—Three Victims at City Hall.

It is whispered about that with the incoming council there will be a reform at city hall and in the central fire department.

Reform is the word used, although those who profess to have an inkling of the proposed action admit that "change" would be more applicable, and breathlessly promise great things in the near future. The authorities claim to know nothing about it further than that they heard the rumor. Regarding the fire department the same ignorance is professed and as far as can be learned nothing definite will be given out until next Tuesday night. There is about as much mystery connected with the statements as there is regarding what the present council will do with Mr. Sant's bill.

Mayor Gilbert has taken a firmer stand than ever on the matter of Sunday liquor selling. He will break up the practice or know the reason why, and the next man to stand before him will have the pleasure of paying the highest penalty and spending a possible to days in jail. Such bold violation as has been recently shown has settled all doubts as to the severity with which such saloonists should be treated.

The dull business of the week last ended was enlivened last night by a pair of arrests, although neither was of vast importance.

Charles Hayden went to the opera house by himself last night, but left a few minutes later, accompanied by a policeman. He went into the gallery, and wanted to take a seat, but as he had no check to prove his claim, the usher would not let him sit down. Then he remembered that a friend in another part of the house had the check, and called loudly for him to give it up. This aroused Officer Welch, who ordered him to be quiet, but it had no effect. Instead of doing good, it prompted the offender to talk a little louder, and Charles was gathered in. He paid $6.00 today.

George Heckathorne, the individual who wanted to control the destinies of the glass works the other evening, was arrested last night by Officer Supplee.

Heckathorne was walking up the railroad with a lady friend as independently as if he had no fear of policemen or mayor's courts, when Officer Supplee took hold of his disengaged arm and used sufficient pressure to convince him that he had best take another partner. He was still in jail at noon today. Young Heckathorne was arrested on Friday night last, when the trouble occurred, but escaped from Officer Wyman and has laid low until he probably imagined the affair had "blown over." This afternoon Mayor Gilbert fined him $14.75 and committed him to the workhouse.

Ralph Woods appeared at city hall this afternoon, plead guilty to disorderly conduct and left security for $5.00, the same as Nibblock and Gillispie paid.

No Fire at Walker.

People living on high ground in the city saw last night what they believed to be a burning building at Walker. The flames shot high in the air, and the reflection was visible for half an hour. The residents of the hamlet cannot explain the light, but know of no building that was burned there last night.

Their First Shipment.

The East End pottery shipped their first cask of ware this morning. It was consigned to a Pittsburg firm and is being followed by larger shipments today. The East End plant has already proven that they have a fine quality of ware and will undoubtedly get their share of orders.

Gone to Columbus.

The household goods of Charles Weddell were shipped to Columbus yesterday, where the family will reside. Few families are coming to the city at present, but fortunately few are going away.

Will Arrive Tonight.

When Reverend Norris and George Sebring arrived in New York last night, they wired their friends that they would start at once for East Liverpool, arriving in the city tonight.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, APRIL 6.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF OHIO.

RHODE ISLAND made a splendid record for herself at the late election, and Missouri showed that she is ready and willing to accept Republican rule.

THE time limit on the income tax expires within the next few days, and the supreme court has not yet handed down its decision. Meanwhile the treasury officials are spending sleepless nights, and wondering what they will do if the law is declared unconstitutional.

MCKINLEY AND SILVER.

The Cleveland Leader has been investigating the position of Governor McKinley on the silver question, and finds that he has ever been on the side of honest money. Among other things he is quoted as saying, when in congress:

"To tell me that the free and unlimited coinage of the silver of the world, in the absence of co-operation on the part of other commercial nations, will not bring gold to a premium, is to deny all history and the weight of all financial experience.
The very instant you have opened up your mints to the silver bullion of the world, independently of international action, that very instant, or in a brief time at best, you have sent gold to a premium. And when you have sent gold to a premium, then you have put it, in great measure, into disuse, and we are reminded to the single standard —that of silver alone; we have deprived ourselves of the active use of both metals.

"They talk about silver being cheap money. And gentlemen no longer conceal that the reason they want silver is because it is cheap. I am not attracted by the word 'cheap,' whether applied to nations or to men, or whether it is applied to money.
Whatever dollars we have in this country must be good dollars, as good in the hands of the poor as the rich;
equal dollars, equal in inherent merit;
equal in purchasing power, whether they be paper dollars or gold dollars or silver dollars or treasury notes—each convertible into the other and each exchangeable for the other, because each is based upon equal value, and has behind it equal security; good not by the fiat of law alone, but good because the whole commercial world recognizes its inherent and inextinguishable value."

ROBBERY.

The legal rate of public printing, fixed by the state of Ohio, is $1 per square, in a paper of general circulation.
No sane man will say that the Weekly Tribune is a paper of "general circulation" in this city. The dodge of printing extra copies and peddling them about the city will not fill the bill. Council, according to the strict interpretation of the law, dare not give the legal printing to such an obscure sheet as the Weekly Tribune, and the taxpayers of this city should see to it that the bill is not paid, unless it be from the pockets of the members of council who threw so much money away on the weekly sheet, published by a brain weakening, only fit for an insane asylum. Jerry is a fool, and is known as such; but he had cunning tools work for him in this last venture. The News Review and the Crisis agreed to publish in bright and spicy dailies, covering, with their circulation, the entire city of East Liverpool, the clerk's report, at only half of legal rates. Publication of this offer was made through the columns of these dailies, and then the sneak act was done at the next meeting of council, when witless Jerry's friends offered to do the work at 50 cents per square, in his paper of no circulation, save by peddlers. The dailies, wide awake, made the proposition for one-fourth the legal rates. An official of this city took misfit Betz aside in city hall on last Wednesday night, told the fellow the bid of the daily papers and Jerry's bid was changed, as the pencil figures will show, to 40 cents per square. Determined that this villain should not succeed, Manager Palmer offered, on the part of the dailies, to do the work for the city at 25 cents net per square, or 12 1/2 cents per square each, and council refused to accept the offer. The men who dared do this contemptible trick are politically dead in East Liverpool. All this was done in defiance of the fact that the News Review has the contract from the city, as shown by the minutes of May 8, 1894, and the taxpayers will be compelled to pay the bill of the News Review, on the honor of the city, a contract made, signed and sealed by the same men as now set in council. Witless Jerry's statement that Manager Palmer offered to do the printing free of charge is simply a plain, unvarnished lie. Witless Jerry did the free act one time, and his friends afterward found it difficult to restrain him from committing suicide.

OSCAR WILDE IN JAIL.

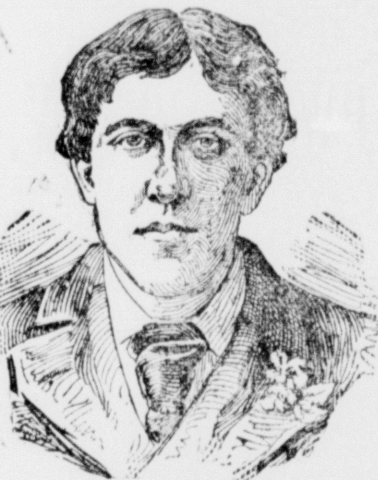

The Famous Aesthete Charged With Disgusting Practices.

MARQUIS OF QUEENSBERRY WINS.

Wilde's Own Testimony the Basis of the Charge Brought Against Himself. He Is Refused Bail—The Prisoner Writes a Letter to the Newspapers.

LONDON, April 6.—Oscar Wilde has been arrested on a warrant charging him with indecent and criminal practices in connection with other men, growing out of the evidence produced in his libel suit against the Marquis of Queensberry.

Wilde wore an ulster and a silk hat. He was very pale but cool when he arrived at Scotland Yard. Few persons witnessed his arrival there and those who did so maintained silence. Wilde was arraigned at the Bow street police court. He had merely called at the Cadogan hotel with a couple of friends when a detective walked into the office and asked for him. The officer was told that Wilde was not staying there, but the detective was not to be put off with any such technical explanation.

OSCAR WILDE, and insisted that whether Wilde was staying there or not that the man he wanted to see was in the hotel.

He was thereupon shown a room and upon entering found Wilde sitting down. The officer at once told Wilde that he was under arrest and had him prepare to accompany him. Wilde said nothing but immediately went with the detective, who took him to Scotland Yard, where the warrant was read. The prisoner remained silent throughout the proceedings. He was then taken to Bow street. He was not arraigned in the police court, as was at first stated, but was placed in the dock in the police station. Here he stood with his hands in his pockets while the charge against him was being taken. A police inspector read the charge aloud and the prisoner refused to permit him to leave it. Later Lord Alfred Douglas went to the police station and inquired whether Wilde could be admitted to bail. The police inspector explained that Wilde had been arrested for a criminal offense which did not allow of bail being accepted until he had been arraigned in court.

Lord Alfred was greatly distressed by this information. He was told by the inspector that Wilde had a blank and other requisites in his cell to be as comfortable as the police regulations allowed. The name of Oscar Wilde has been withdrawn from the play bills and advertisements of the two theatres, the St. James and the Haymarket, where two of his plays are running.

The jury in the case of Oscar Wilde against the Marquis of Queensberry found that the plea of justification submitted by the Marquis of Queensberry was proved and the marquis was discharged from custody. The verdict was received with loud applause from the court, which the judge did not check. Wilde had previously withdrawn his name.

Oscar Wilde has written a letter to newspapers in which he says: "It was impossible to prove my case without putting Lord Alfred Douglas in the witness box against his father. Lord Alfred was extremely anxious to go into the box, but I would not allow it. Rather than put him in such a painful position I determined to retire from the case and bear upon my own shoulders whatever shame and ignominy that might result from not prosecuting the Marquis of Queensberry."

Preacher May Be a Nobleman. TOPEKA, Kan., April 6.—The Rev. Charles Rowland Hill, only son and heir of the late Viscount Hill, who died in London, Eng., a few days ago, is a resident of Topeka, an Episcopal clergyman connected with Grace Cathedral.

Four People Killed, and One Injured Near Summerfield, O.

COLUMBUS, April 6.—A special from Summerfield, O., says that passenger train No. 538, on the Bellvue, Zanesville and Cincinnati railroad, consisting of an engine, baggage car and passenger coach, left here on time and moved along nicely until the train reached trestle No. 98, near Waigville, when the coach jumped the track and ran a short distance into the trestle, when it turned over, drawing the engine and baggage car down with the trestle. The engine turned end for end and the coach turned bottom up with sides crushed in.

There were four killed outright as follows: Eli Lucas, engineer, Summerfield, O.; Henry Brown, passenger, Bealsville, O.; Mrs. Nathan Young and little daughter, Summerfield, O. Jesse Jones of Summerfield, O., was fatally injured.

The passenger coach was smashed to kindling wood and only two of the passengers, Nathan Young of Summerfield and Joseph Denoon of Woodsfield, escaped alive.

Mrs. Nathan Young and little daughter and Henry Brown of Bealsville were all instantly killed. The engineer, Eli Lucas, was instantly killed and the fireman, Jesse Jones, was fatally injured. Both men might have saved themselves by jumping, as no great speed is attained by the small engines in service on the road, but they chose rather to remain at their posts. Jones was thrown from the engine as it went down. While Lucas was caught under the machinery and instantly killed.

The engineer's family reside in this city, and he was recognized as a thoroughly competent man and was a favorite on the road. Jones, who will die as the result of his bravery, was a founding member of one of the infirmaries along the line of the road. He showed a disposition to get on in the world and was also a favorite on the road.

An Ohio Murderer Caught.

ABERDEEN, O., April 6.—Mayor Hill has received a telegram from the chief of police of New Orleans asking if Frank Power was wanted here for murder, and if so, what was the reward offered. It is thought by many here that they have arrested Arthur Power, wanted here for the murder of Ezekiel Martin, three years ago last Thanksgiving eve. There is a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer offered by Edmund Martin, a brother of the murdered man. Mayor Hill sent the telegram to Mr. Martin at Ripley, and he will investigate and see if the Frank Power named in the telegram is Arthur Power.

The Pickles Saved Him.

PORTSMOUTH, O., April 6.—Ed Kirby, a grocer of this city, fell from a stepladder on the second floor of his store building. Instead of striking the floor he hit an open hatchway and went on to the cellar, a distance of 50 feet. The clerk on the first floor saw him shoot by and went down to gather up his mangled remains. Instead of finding him dead, the astonished grocer was standing waist deep in a barrel of pickles, which he had struck feet first, sending the pickles in every direction. He was badly bruised but not seriously injured.

Miner's Boat Blown Up.

POMEROY, O., April 6.—An attempt was made at Minersville to blow up by dynamite the family boat of John Forbes, a miner, imported to take the place of striking miners. The boat was badly shattered, but no lives were lost. Four men have taken the places of old miners in Williams' mine and serious trouble is feared. Forbes was on the dynamite, but they escaped. There was a woman and two children on the wrecked boat. The situation is getting desperate in Minersville.

Must Arbitrate the Matter.

LIMA, O., April 6.—Judge Ricks of the United States court has ordered the receiver of the Columbus, Lima and Milwaukee Railroad company to arbitrate the matter of the right of way and roadbed sought to be condemned by the Lima Northern Railway company. The portion of roadbed which the new company wants to come in possession of lies between this city and Defiance and is 42 miles in length.

The Ohio Miners Adjourn.

COLUMBUS, April 6.—The Ohio miners' convention adjourned after adopting a resolution not to arrange a scale until the Pittsburgh strike is settled. Also that Ohio is willing to advance the rate at any time when Pittsburgh may agree to do so. A conference of operators from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois is being held to arrange the scale to be paid.

Drowned While Hunting.

TROY, O., April 6.—Marion Hill, colored, while hunting, shot a duck, and jumping into a boat with his gun waded out to the middle of the stream. In reaching for the duck the boat tipped over and threw him out. He started to swim ashore with his gun and duck, but sank when about 40 feet from shore. The body has not yet been found.

National Guard Changes.

SPRINGFIELD, April 6.—It is stated that Colonel Charles Anthony, commanding the Third Regiment Infantry, O. N. G., will leave that office upon the expiration of the term of his commission, which occurs early next month. It is also reported that Lieutenant Colonel Hunter of Piqua will also resign.

Ladies of East Liverpool and the surrounding country, you will be interested in the announcement that Miss M. A. Farrell will hold an Easter Opening on tonight and Saturday night, April 5 and 6, when she will exhibit to you, at her handsome rooms in the Ikirt block, Fifth street, an elegant line of pattern hats and bonnets, beauties in design and finish, embracing the very latest fashions worn in the leading cities of the union. The ladies employed at Miss Farrell's are skillful and thoroughly competent, while the trimmer, Miss F. McDougall, is an artist in making the headwear attractive in the highest degree. Don't purchase your spring hat or bonnet until you have first called at Farrell's millinery headquarters, Ikirt block, Fifth street, East Liverpool.

FOUGHT TO THE DEATH.

The Tragic End of Two Dogs In California Hollow.

The friends of two dogs in California hollow are discussing the tragic ending of their lives yesterday afternoon. The animals were fighting on the hillside and one caught his antagonist by the fore leg. Not to be outdone in advantage, the other canine also secured a good hold, and they missed their footing. The ground being steep, the dogs began to roll, and were soon in the water. So determined was each to win the battle that there was no thought of releasing his hold. They floundered around in the water for a time, and as each refused to give in, they sank to the bottom together, still locked as in a vice. The water is deep at this season, and the dogs were soon drowned. One was the property of John Brooks, and the other owned Thomas Mitcheson as his master.

Things Theatrical.

"Coon Hollow" appeared at the Grand last night to a good house, and the company did not occupy much time in dispelling the doubt that they had a good show. The scenery was above the average and the characters, with few exceptions, were possessed of more than ordinary talent. Miss Louise Hamilton, as Georgia, had the part of a young lady and the size of a child, which evidently handicapped her, while W. G. Ingram, as Ralph Markham, her lover, is worthy of mention. The two leading characters, however, were Lester Lonergran, as Lem Steckwell, and Miss Bessie Taylor, as Clyde Harrod. Miss Taylor held the audience breathless in her inspiration of a remorse-stricken murderer in the last and only tragic scene in the play.

Advance Agent Roberts, of the Punch Robertson company, which plays every night next week except Friday evening, when the "Two Johns" appear, is registered at the Grand. The Robertson company in repertoire will present "Man and Master," an Irish comedy, Monday night.

Base Ball.

The Young Men's Christian association boys have an arrangement to play ball with the Bethany college team at that place next Saturday afternoon, but the make up of the team has not yet been decided upon. As the Republican primaries take place on that day some of the players see more attraction here than on the diamond at Bethany.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Maccabees had a lively time last night initiating a long string of candidates.

Mrs. Sadie Smith has moved her household effects to Columbus. She resided on Sixth street.

William Kelley, of Bergholz, is here to take his sister, Miss Georgia Kelley, to their home as soon as she is able to be moved.

The two drill squads who will appear at the bean bake, drilled last night in Bradshaw hall from 7 to 10 o'clock. They are doing excellent work, and will make a fine showing.

The First Spiritual and Religious society meets Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in Ferguson & Hill's hall on West Market street. Subject, "Dives and Lazarus." After the lecture Mr. Howe will give clairvoyant readings.

A lone traveler, who said he was on his way to Columbus, where he hoped to get work, occupied one of the quartered oak couches at city hall last night. He was a typical specimen of the genius hobo, but claimed to be a workman who would work if it was possible for him to obtain employment.

The average citizen is swearing under his breath because the small boy has found a dandish toy in the form of an explosive top. These seemingly harmless little things are prone to explode at unexpected moments with a loud report, frightening horses and startling pedestrians. Knowing their advantage the youngsters are making the most of it.

Mrs. Stribelo, a well known resident of West End, was buried in Riverview cemetery. Deceased was for several years a sufferer from cancer, only three weeks ago returning from Pittsburgh where she was being treated in a hospital for the dread disease. She was 59 years of age, and leaves two children, one of whom is in Virginia being cared for by relatives.

A beer wagon and an unmanageable horse collected a crowd and caused some damage in the Diamond last evening. The driver was unable to keep the horse in hand, and it ran the wagon against a sign post. The rickety pole came down with a crash, and added to the horse's fright, but gave the driver an opportunity to control the frightened animal. The damage was slight, but the excitement was great.

The handsome team of grays owned by Jack Rowe became frightened at the street car commanded by Motorman Kerr on Sixth street yesterday afternoon, and promised to mash all the plate glass windows along the street. Fortunately there were enough people nearby to check the horses, and prevent accident, while the motorman left his car and aided in putting the harness to right. No damage was done.

The friends of a well known young man whose employment keeps him in the neighborhood of the Diamond, are making his life miserable because he was kind enough to take the queen of his heart to her home in another town when she was ill. His friends are telling him that it was only a plan on her part for a vacation, but he has faith in the lady and asserts so strongly that they are wrong that the friends find fun in his earnestness.

There was a large attendance of Grand Army men at the meeting last night, and all arrangements for the bean bake next Tuesday evening were completed. All the committees reported as having their affairs all right, and it was arranged to have another meeting on Monday evening. The most important business of the evening was the selection of the best male talent in the city, who will sing old army songs at the entertainment.

Walter Tarr, who has been going through the country as the advance agent of the Wilson Day company, has decided to return to private life, and is expected here in a few days. The company have not been the pets of fortune since appearing in this place, but have met with more or less misfortune. At present they are in Michigan, and although the company have not abandoned the stage, individual players are looking for other positions.

The dog poisoner appeared on Seventh street the other night, and when morning came the stiffened bodies of seven canines lay cold in death. A few days later another was added to the list, and on Thursday night another passed into the happy hunting grounds. The last victim was the property of J. B. Appell and was a valuable dog. It was not only a pet, but had expensive blood in its veins. If the poisoner is caught he will receive rough treatment on Seventh street.

Finance committee of council held a meeting the other evening, and talked over the bill of John Sant on that Dow tax matter. All the members and President Berg were present, but they are not making their deliberations known. When the councilmen were asked what they had done they simply winked the other eye, and told the reporter to wait until next Tuesday evening, when all would be made plain. Not an intimation of how they observe the bill has been allowed to leak out.

THE EASTERN CENTRAL

Important Points on a New Railroad.

VALUABLE MINERAL FIELDS

The Road Starts at Pittsburg and Touches the River at Yellow Creek—Expected to Go by Way of Bergholz to Loudenville.
Surveys Have Been Made.

Two years ago a surveying party who would not tell a word of what they were doing, and who were in charge of Engineer Richard Lee, drove the last stake on a preliminary line at the mouth of Yellow Creek, and then took the first train for Loudenville. Since that time the proposed line has often been discussed, but nothing definite made its appearance until the following article was printed in the Loudenville Advocate this week:

There has been considerable talk and more printing about the general direction of the surveyed line of the Eastern Central, and also in regard to the location of the important coal fields along the line. Some of the printed statements are widely in error as to the direction and others regarding the coal lands and their location have been as far in variance from the truth as the moon is from the earth. After leaving Pittsburg the line passes near to Imperial, the terminus of Montour railroad. From Imperial the line is practically direct to the mouth of Yellow Creek on the Ohio. A beautiful valley runs in the proper direction about half way between the Panhandle railroad and the Ohio river. The Montour road is a coal field and there is a continuous coal field from Imperial to the Ohio river. Yellow Creek station at the mouth of Yellow Creek is about two miles below Wellsville and is the junction of the two roads of the Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad. The next town of any importance is Bergholz, the present terminus of the L. E. A. & S. railroad. From the river to some distance above Bergholz there is generally two veins of coal in sight and some time three. "In sight," we were told meant literally in sight, exposed along the cliffs like rocks. One of these veins is the famous Salineville Big Vein, and here it is six feet thick. Other veins are four feet thick and over. In many places there are three workable veins above drainage. The line will probably cross the ridge between the Ohio and the Tuscarawas rivers, near Harlem Springs. On this ridge there are several square miles of a light but workable vein of black-smith coal. The preliminary line crosses Conotton creek near Sherds-ville and then passes through New Philadelphia and Canal Dover. From Pittsburg to New Philadelphia the line passes through a coal field so extensive that it can only be measured by townships. Leaving Canal Dover the line passes near Salineville, Millersburg, Loudenville, Lexington and Gallon. There is a fine coal field in Holmes county, but while Holmes county coal can be measured by the square mile, the coal fields of Carroll and Jefferson counties must be measured by townships six miles square. It will be seen from the above that the Eastern Central will tap some of the most important coal fields in the state and develop veins that have hitherto been impracticable to work on account of lack of railroad facilities. The Eastern Central would open up this virgin field and develop a large scope of country. Its importance as a coal feeder to the towns in this section through which it will pass can readily be seen at a glance.

The project has not been abandoned as many people have believed, but promises to live and wax strong before many years go by, even though no one seems to know who is backing it. The project looks very nice on paper and shows the construction of a good line when it is completed, but there are doubters who wonder where the money comes from. If the line is backed by any of the railroad companies it will be built; but if some small concern is pushing it, years may pass before trains run over the rails. Capitalists are not investing money in railroads just now, and there may be no more in the Eastern Central than a lot of talk.

The Mayor Has Money.
Mayor Gilbert still has some money for witnesses in the famous Hutcheson and McFadden trials, and desires that all those who did not receive their cash call at once.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Many years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., compounded this medicine of vegetable ingredients which had an especial effect upon the stomach and liver, rousing the organs to healthful activity as well as purifying and enriching the blood. By such means the stomach and the nerves are supplied with pure blood; they will not do duty without it any more than a locomotive can run without coal. You can not get a lasting cure of Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, by taking artificially digested foods or peppin—the stomach must do its own work in its own way. Do not put your nerves to sleep with so-called celery mixtures, it is better to get to the seat of the difficulty and feed the nerve cells on the food they require. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Bilelessness and Nervous Affections, such as sleeplessness and weak, nervous feelings are completely cured by the "Discovery." It puts on healthy flesh, brings refreshing sleep and invigorates the whole system.

Mrs. K. HENKE, of No. 865 North Halsted St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I regard my improvement as simply wonderful. Since taking Dr. Pierce's medicine, my dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness and nervous affections, such as sleeplessness and weak, nervous feelings are completely cured by the 'Discovery.' It puts on healthy flesh, brings refreshing sleep and invigorates the whole system."

Now, after two months' entire relief of my disease. My appetite is excellent; food well digested; much improved."
